

QHSE Policy Statement

At Intero – The Sniffers, we are committed to supporting our clients and their teams – from HSE professionals to maintenance, production and asset managers – in achieving their key performance targets in health & safety, environment, energy efficiency and production output.

We do this by delivering expert services rooted in the knowledge and experience of our staff in measurement and data analysis. Our tailored advice helps clients make informed decisions and reach their goals effectively.

Our organisational culture is built on three core pillars: customer focus, care for people and environmental responsibility. We strive to maintain a healthy financial foundation, with continuous improvement embedded in our daily operations. Within our company, health & safety, environmental performance, quality, customer satisfaction and service excellence are central drivers of improvement.

The following key principles underpin our QHSE policy:

- commitment of highly trained, competent, and dedicated personnel
- delivering added value through advanced expertise in data and information analysis
- a strong and consistent focus on customer satisfaction
- preventing injuries to our employees and third parties and avoiding material damage
- minimising environmental impact and optimising the use of natural resources such as electricity and fuel
- ensuring full compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements

All our activities are carried out in accordance with international standards, bringing added value to both our internal processes and our customers. Intero – The Sniffers is committed to operating in full alignment with ISO 9001, ISO 14001, ISO 17025, ISO 27001, and VCA standards, as well as with client-specific requirements and the expectations of accreditation bodies.

We are fully dedicated to implementing this policy across our organisation and actively involving all employees in supporting and further developing it.
